The tremendous growth of Christianity in Africa was one of the defining events of the 20th century. In 1910 a scant fraction—about nine million people—of the continent’s population were Christians. Today there are 516 million Christians in Africa, over 60 percent of the continent’s population. Nigeria alone has twice as many Protestants as Germany. Churches founded by Africans are now spreading to Europe, Asia and America; today, the largest church in Europe is led by a Nigerian pastor.

This course will explore how all of this came to be. The course is organized chronologically, beginning with the medieval Christian kingdom of Ethiopia and moving forward in time. We will explore the dynamics of the evangelical missionary movement of the 19th century, the role of Christianity in African nationalism, and the reasons for the explosive growth of Pentecostal churches in late 20th century Africa. The focus throughout will be on African theological and political initiative. We will spend a lot of time interpreting and discussing ‘primary’ sources, especially testimonies, newspapers and tracts composed by African Christian thinkers. The course will culminate in the writing of a research paper, which students will compose over the course of the semester in conversation with the professor.

Required Books (available at the bookstore and also on 4 hour reserve in Shapiro Library)

In addition, a number of required readings are posted to the course’s CTools site. The readings available on CTools are marked with a  below.

Course requirements:
1. Attendance and participation: This class meets twice a week. Regular attendance is mandatory; if you must miss a class, do let me know in advance. The week’s readings are generally to be prepared for our Thursday meetings, which are labeled ‘Discussion’ on the reading schedule below.
2. Lead discussion. During two of the ten sessions during which we discuss a set of readings, you will (with a partner) lead the class. You should, together, prepare a joint set of reading questions on paper that will structure our conversation. These questions should be sent to me by 9:00 am on the day you are to lead class. During the class meeting you’ll raise issues, point toward areas of controversy, and challenge your classmates to think more clearly.

3. Response papers. For both of the sessions during which you’re leading discussion you should prepare a short, 3-4 page paper that synthesizes and criticizes the readings. These short papers are due at the start of the class.

4. Research paper. In dialogue with me, you’ll prepare a research paper of 18 to 20 pages in length concerning an aspect of the history of Christianity in Africa. The key dates are as follows:

   - Thursday, 26 February: Meet with instructor to discuss questions and sources. Due: 500 word proposal.
   - Thursday, 26 March: Meet with instructor. Due: Bibliography, revised 500 word proposal and draft outline.
   - Thursday, 16 April and Tuesday, 21 April: Presentations of research in class. Due: Abstract of your paper for circulation to classmates.
   - Thursday, 21 April. Due: First draft of paper
   - Tuesday, 28 April at 4:00. Due: Final paper

Marking scheme

Marks will be determined as follows:

- Attendance and participation (inc. discussion leading): 20 points
- Research paper: 40 points
- Response papers (x2): 15 points each
- Presentation: 10 points

Academic Integrity Policy

This course follows the academic integrity guidelines set forth by the College of LSA [http://www.lsa.umich.edu/academicintegrity/] and the History Department [http://www.lsa.umich.edu/history/undergraduate/courses/guidelinesandpolicies]. Students should familiarize themselves with both of these documents, which explain the standards of academic integrity and clarify the prohibited forms of academic misconduct. Students in this course should utilize the Chicago Manual of Style Online for all issues of source citation, along with any specific guidelines provided in the course assignments. Clarifying the disciplinary standards of research ethics and source citation is part of the educational mission of this course, and students should consult the instructor regarding any questions. Any cases of academic misconduct in this class will automatically earn a zero for the assignment (and may incur further penalties). All cases of deliberate academic misconduct that result in formal sanctions of any kind will be reported to the dean’s office, as required by LSA policy, which also ensures due process rights of appeal for students.

Grading criteria:
Grading papers is not an exact business. I will not give or take off a fixed number of points for particular strengths or weaknesses. The following table, therefore, should be read as a guideline.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>GRADE</th>
<th>ARGUMENT</th>
<th>EVIDENCE</th>
<th>STYLE</th>
<th>MECHANICS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>Argument clearly stated at beginning and developed logically throughout the paper to a clear conclusion.</td>
<td>Extensive and varied evidence supports argument. No significant omissions, irrelevancies, or errors.</td>
<td>Excellent prose style; clear, elegant and persuasive.</td>
<td>No errors of grammar, spelling etc.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>Argument generally clear, but some digressions or failures to develop fully to a conclusion.</td>
<td>Generally good evidence, but some lack of variety of sources or errors of omission, or some irrelevant data.</td>
<td>Clear and understandable prose, but less than elegant.</td>
<td>A few minor errors.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>Argument is implied, but not explicitly stated and/or not well developed to a conclusion.</td>
<td>Some evidence, but excessive dependence on a single source, substantial omissions or irrelevancies, and/or minor errors of fact.</td>
<td>Understandable writing, but sometimes vague, wooden, or choppy.</td>
<td>Substantial errors which detract from overall effect of the paper.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D</td>
<td>Argument is barely discernable and/or very poorly developed.</td>
<td>Very little or largely irrelevant evidence, and/or substantial errors of fact.</td>
<td>Writing is confusing, vague, and/or hard to understand.</td>
<td>Frequent and serious errors which make paper hard to understand.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>No discernable argument or paper totally digresses from argument.</td>
<td>Virtually no relevant evidence and/or very serious errors of fact.</td>
<td>Writing is nearly unintelligible.</td>
<td>Massive errors which render paper nearly unintelligible.</td>
</tr>
